

Esther Foss – Priest-in-charge

St Andrew's Church Coulsdon

In 2005 I was ordained deacon at Chester Cathedral, and made priest the following year. I served curacies in Altrincham and Bramhall before moving to Knaresborough, North Yorkshire, to take up the role of Team Vicar at Holy Trinity in 2009. In July 2015 I became Priest in Charge of St Andrew's Coulsdon. It has been an eventful ten years!

I love spending time with my family and friends, particularly my beloved dog. I am currently learning German, in the hopes that one day „Ich werde fließend“. I enjoy reading historical novels, medieval art, travel and my Mum's Yorkshire puddings – heaven on a plate!

I believe that Jesus came “so that we might have life in all its abundance” (John 10:10), and that we are born to ‘manifest the glory of God that is within us.’ Of course, this takes some practice! Most of us learn better together, so why not come and join us? You would be very welcome (and we do a good cup of coffee after the service too!)

We look forward to welcoming you.

Best wishes,

Esther
